Studio A+B

Two studios and double the size, for large productions

If you need to plan multiple sets simultaneously or extra space for your crew and clients, Studio A and Studio B can be opened up to each other. Doubling up on all the facilities and space, there are unlimited ways you can take full advantage of this unique setup with a passage between the two studios that can be open or closed depending on your requirements.

The added bonus in this configuration, Studios A+B is the use of our signature architectural corridor that will be an added space that can be used for wardrobe, catering, or an additional shooting space.
